Indications.
WASHINGTON, July 14.—For Tennessee and Ohio Valley.—Generally fair weather, variable winds and nearly stationary temperature.

WEATHER PENDULUM

At this writing appears to be still swinging in the hot direction along the large arc of oscillation it has been describing during the past ten days or thereabouts. Under such circumstances, cool clothes are indispensable to the well-being of humanity; there is no alternative recourse. Of course we are prepared for the demand ---we are too familiar with the caprices of our climate to be caught napping---and can show in our several Clothing Departments an unrivaled variety of the sorts of warm weather apparel that unite comfort and becomingness. For the rest of our Furnishing Goods Department supplies, in the largest variety, the other essentials of the masculine wardrobe. The prices at which these goods are selling furnish convincing demonstrations of the ability of MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., July 14.—Shortly after five o'clock yesterday afternoon a heavy wind and rain storm passed over Lake Minnetonka. A small steam-yacht, the Minnie Cook, with eight persons on board, was capsized and the entire party drowned. News of the accident spread rapidly and created the wildest excitement when it became known that all the victims resided here. The names of the victims are as follows: Ex-Mayor C. C. Hand and wife, Mary Hand, and two sons, Harvey and Frank Hand, J. R. Coykendall and wife, Kate Coykendall, and George McDonald, engineer. The storm is described by eye witnesses on big boats as terrific, the waves rolled high, spray rain and hail falling the air. Large steamers put into shore with great difficulty. It was impossible for small crafts to live in the terrible sea and storm. Other boats and lives are supposed to have been lost, but it is difficult to get details. The storm was severe at White Bear also, but no lives are reported lost there.

A. C. Hand was Mayor of Minneapolis for two terms previous to Ames' incumbency, and was a wealthy and well-known citizen. John Coykendall was a member of the firm of Coykendall Bros. & Co. There is great excitement in Minneapolis and St. Paul over the tragic end of the pleasure excursion.

WAYZATA, Minn., July 14.—Divers are at work on the steamer City of St. Louis to recover the bodies lost in Sunday night's storm, and another party is here awaiting transportation to the scene of the wreck. The bodies of ex-Mayor Hand, Frank Hand and Kate Coykendall have been recovered from a spot where there is about one hundred feet of water. The wreck is located in sixty feet of water. The divers report the mud very deep and the work of recovery exceedingly difficult.

SYRACUSE, N. Y., July 14.—Three young men, carpenters from Cleveland, came here last Tuesday to work. Sunday afternoon they went boating on Onondaga Lake, and, deceived by the apparent depth of the water, undressed and sprang overboard one hundred feet from the shore. Only one could swim. Louis Hauke sank in fifteen feet of water and was drowned. The others were rescued. Hauke was twenty-three years old.

Disastrous Storms.

BLOOMINGTON, Ill., July 14.—This region was visited by another tremendous rain yesterday lasting over an hour, which deluged the grain fields. Reports continue to come in from Thursday's storm or water spout, showing it to be the most damaging ever known. Twenty-five miles east and north-east of this city, several bridges on the Lake Erie & Western Railroad were swept away. The damage to railroads, crops, buildings, and stock is estimated at not less than $250,000.

The Mackinac valley within eight hours was submerged and thousands of acres of promising corn and thousands of shocks of newly cut grain were floated and carried away. Several bridges on the Lake Erie and Western railroad were washed out together with half of the track. At Kappa, on the Illinois Central, the water rose ten feet within an hour, and at Selma a $50,000 iron bridge across the Mackinac was swept away. Several houses were moved from their foundations and carried half a mile away. Horses and cattle were killed by lightning and drowned, and in several places people were stunned by lightning. Old settlers say it was the greatest storm in twenty years.

Texas Crookedness.

EL PASO, Texas, July 14.—The investigation of alleged corruption in municipal affairs here, has been brought to a sudden end. Britton and Long were awarded the contract August 4th last, for building the court house and jail, and Alfred Giles was chosen architect. The jail was completed March last, and the Court House is now under construction. Three local architects, all recently preferred charges that the plans and specifications had been altered so as to save the contractors nearly $60,000. This has been proven, and Giles, Britton and Long have been detected in an effort to bribe witnesses and destroy evidence.

The commissioners have removed Giles as architect and Britton as contractor. Giles and Long have been arrested on the charge of perjury and placed in the jail they had just built.

THE FISHERY INTEREST

Considered by the Canadian Parliament—Government Charged With Dereliction of Duty—Arrested for Robbery—Railroad Accident.

OTTAWA, Ont., July 14.—The fishery question was considered by Parliament yesterday afternoon. Mr. Weldon charged the Government with dereliction of duty in delaying negotiations with a view to securing a new treaty. He showed the great loss that would accrue to Canadian fishermen by the recent arrangement, by which all fish going into the United States would have to pay heavy duty, while Americans were allowed to fish in Canadian waters without paying for the privilege.

Sir John Macdonald charged Mr. Weldon with having placed the American case before the public, and having seriously prejudiced any future negotiations for a new treaty. He held that having sounded both sides of the question, he had found them both equally opposed to either arranging a new fishing treaty or extending the commercial relations between the United States and Canada.

The British Minister at Washington, had been ascertaining that President Cleveland was desirous that there should be some broad commercial treaty arranged by which the products of the two countries could be advantageously exchanged. Favorable legislation was expected at the next session of the United States Congress.

KYOTO, Ont., July 14.—Duncan Mackenzie, of this city, has been arrested for alleged complicity in the robbery of $5,000 at Harrisburg, Mich., about a year ago. While a circus was at that place, the town treasurer was gagged and bound to a chair at about nine o'clock at night and the sum named extracted from his safe. Mackenzie admits having been at Harrisburg at the time, but denies that he had anything to do with the robbery. The case will be argued as soon as the American sheriff arrives.

ST. JOHN, N. B., July 14.—Two freight trains left Montreal within an hour of each other Sunday night bound north. The rear car of the forward train became detached and the driver ignorant of the fact proceeded. A short time later, in the morning, the second train ran into these cars, resulting in the destruction of the engine and the killing of Driver McLennan and Fireman Kidd. They were both single and lived in Montreal.

WADE HAMPTON

Tells What the Hampton Legion Did at the First Battle of Manassas.

CHARLESTON, S. C., July 14.—The News and Courier published a long letter from General Wade Hampton correcting errors in the recent articles of General Johnston and Imboden, touching the first battle of Manassas or Bull Run. General Hampton shows that the Hampton Legion, six hundred strong, which he commanded, arrested the victorious columns of Sherman and Keyes, who were driving the Confederate forces back, and that the Legion so delayed the Federal advance as to enable Confederate reinforcements to be brought up.

The News and Courier gives an elaborate review of the battle, the history of which, it claims, must now be rewritten. Its conclusion is that Hampton was to Jackson at Manassas, what Jackson was to the whole Confederate left. Hampton saved the whole battle, and Jackson saved the army. It was the magnificent fighting of the legion under terrible odds that gave Jackson time to bring his troops into position. Had he not had the opportunity of doing so, the battle would have been irretrievably lost. The opportunity to form those Virginians was given to Jackson by Hampton and his men, and was given by them alone.

A Determined Suicide.

ST. LOUIS, July 14.—C. H. Mims, a Belgian, forty-five years of age, attempted self-destruction yesterday morning in a room at Koeler's Hotel. Mims came from San Antonio, Tex., where he had been a book-keeper, and came here with the expectation of obtaining a situation. Having failed, and his funds having sunk low, he determined to die. He went to work and secretly strapped himself with the exception of his undergarments, and fired a bullet into his abdomen. He ran for the bell-boy, returned before he was strapped, and the boy discovered him in a pool of blood. The bullet had entered one side of his body and made an exit through the other. The boy asked, "What did you do that for?" Mims replied, "I was going to die." Mims, thereupon, endeavored to finish the work by jumping out of the window. He was prevented by help, which had arrived. An ambulance conveyed him to a dispensary, where he died in a short time.

Fatal Dried Beef.

KANKAKEE, Ill., July 14.—A microscopic examination of the dried beef which caused the illness of sixty or more persons at Momence, in this county, was made yesterday. It revealed thousands of worms to the square inch in the meat. Some of the insects are represented as being as long as half an inch, and as thick as others, but all have antennae, or horns projecting from the head. There have been two deaths thus far. Mrs. Dr. Strouts, wife of a leading physician, and Mr. Charles Woodard, a prominent citizen. The wife of Hannibal Woodard, the banker, is not expected to live. There are many other cases which are critical. It is reported that a Chicago scientist, to whom portions of the diseased meat have been sent, has said that all who have partaken of it must die sooner or later from the effects.

Hungarian Quarantine Strike.

MEYER, Conn., July 14.—Two hundred and twenty-five of the 240 Hungarians and Italians working at Carpenter Bros' quarry, two miles from this city, struck for higher wages yesterday. The strikers stoned the men who refused to quit work and drove them away. The town constables restored order. In the afternoon most of the strikers returned to their boarding places in this city. They have been paid $1.25 per day and struck for $1.50. The firm will send to New York for other hands. No trouble is apprehended.

Green Bottle Blowers.

PITTSBURGH, July 14.—The annual convention of Green Bottle Blowers met in this city yesterday morning. President Herrington called the convention to order. Seventeen delegates were present from various parts of the country. All the sessions will be held in secret. Destructive Fire.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., July 14.—Fire broke out in the Briggs Horse stable, Phoenix, R. I., at twelve o'clock yesterday, and spread by communicated to the hotel and adjoining buildings. The hotel was destroyed in a very short time, together with its contents. Ten buildings in all, including several barns, were consumed. But for assistance from this city, the compact part of the town would have been destroyed. Total loss $30,000.

OSKOSH, Wis., July 14.—The soap works of J. K. Kiel were burned yesterday. Loss $15,000. The fire is supposed to have been of incendiary origin.

OTTAWA, Kan., July 14.—The Forest Flouring mills, owned by John Kennard, in this city, were burned yesterday. Loss $25,000; insurance $10,000.

He was quiet and seemed serene.

IMPORTANT DECISION.

Decision Which Affects Over 30,000,000 Acres of Public Lands Kept Out of the Market.

The President Calls a Halt on Filing Places Not Vacant—Disaffected Indians Becoming Quiet—Capital Notes.

WASHINGTON, July 14.—Land Commissioner Sparks has rendered an important decision, in a case which recently came before him, affirming the right of entry under the public land laws, and decisions of the Supreme Court of the United States, of lands heretofore withdrawn by the voluntary action of the General Land Office for railroad indemnity purposes, where no requirements of law existed for making such withdrawals. This decision affects over 30,000,000 acres of public land which has been kept out of market for many years in the interest of railroad corporations. The Commissioner cites at length from leading decisions of the Supreme Court, and concludes as follows: "Following these decisions, by the authority of which I am governed, I must hold that a withdrawal of land by the Commissioner of the General Land Office, when, as in the present instance, withdrawals from settlement entry or other appropriation are not required by law, are effective only as information in defining the limits within which selection may be made by the proper time and manner, but are not operative as a prohibition of settlements and entries within such limits under the public land laws prior to the time when a lawful selection by the railroad company had actually been made."

Comptroller Durbin has decided that the continuously dated fifty-dollar compound interest treasury note, recently redeemed by Treasurer Jordan, is genuine, and that it conforms with the act of June 20. These are still outstanding about $10,000 of these erroneously dated notes.

The President, under the caption of "Calling a halt," President puts his foot down, says: "The President has called a halt. A little over a week ago the order went out to all the departments that all disaffected and disloyal persons to fill places not vacant must stop at once. The exposition of the loose ways of the Appointment Clerk of the Treasury, followed by the attempt to prevent the appointment of Keller under the civil service law, the sweep in the Department of Justice, the indiscriminate filing of charges in the Postoffice Department and the alleged disposition of the Commissioner of Patents to make a clean sweep in the Patent Office, have attracted the President's attention, and he has asked his advisers to explain their actions and ordered them meanwhile to stop right where they are."

The War Department is in receipt of dispatches from the Indian Territory, which say that the disaffected Indians are becoming quiet, and that there is a favorable outlook for the settlement of the Indian difficulties.

Inspector Armstrong, who was directed to investigate and if possible adjust the difficulties of the cattle blockade in the Indian Territory, telegraphs to Secretary Lamar yesterday that all difficulties have been settled and that cattle from Texas are now moving northward, the blockade having been raised.

Postmaster Wolf, at Ord, Neb., has been found $400 short in his accounts and his removal is recommended.

The President has cancelled Secretary Teller's order removing the land office from Deadwood to Rapid City, Dak.

General Grant in Better Spirits.

MR. MCGEEON, July 14.—General Grant kept his room all the afternoon yesterday. He could use his voice, and seemed inclined to do so without much restraint until toward evening, when he returned to the use of his pad. He was quite cheerful. Members of the family talked with him occasionally. Rev. Dr. Newman sat and chatted with him quite a while, and Dr. Douglas was in and out of the sick room. He wrote for about an hour altogether. The endeavor of all was to make the day as free from disturbing events as possible. The patient's pulse has returned to about the normal rate. The policy now is to keep the General's day as quiet and free from disturbance as possible, so as to save the strength he has regained and encourage still more improvement. Late in the afternoon when Dr. Shively arrived, the General had returned to his writing pad in order to spare his voice and see if he could not use it again to-day. He was in good spirits all the evening and a prospect for a restful and speedy recovery. In summing up the four weeks that the General has been here Dr. Douglas says that in his ability to keep in appetite and in voice, he has greatly improved. The neck swelling has gone down. The throat has become clearer, and the pulse has recovered force and normal frequency. The cancer, however, has still progressed, and while the improvement that has now set in will not be turned by anything that the General's doctors can do to prevent, they do not expect it to last.

Another Fireman Dead.

ALBANY, N. Y., July 14.—Frederick Waller, fireman of steamer No. 4, injured by the falling walls at Hamilton & Gray's piano factory Sunday, died yesterday morning. He is the third victim of the falling walls. The third victim, Charles K. Townsend, also injured, is now recovering. It is not certain that he will recover. Waller had been in the fire department twenty years. He leaves a wife and nine children. Mr. Townsend joined the department many years since. He is a son of General Frank Townsend, and a large founder and machinist.

An Appointment that Was Kept a Secret.

NEW YORK, July 14.—It is reported from Washington that one day last week Zachariah P. Halpin was appointed postal route agent in this city. For some reason not explained here details have been withheld but to make this appointment public, but it accidentally leaked out yesterday. Postmaster Pearson said concerning the appointment that the place has no relation whatever with the postoffice of this city. He had never heard of Mr. Halpin, so far as he knew.

Would Not Be Interviewed.

NEW YORK, July 14.—Mr. John Roach, the builder of the rejected Dolphin, refused to be interviewed on the opinion of the Attorney General with regard to that vessel, yesterday. As a reason for not submitting to the interview, Mr. Roach said he had not yet received official notification that the Government did not want the vessel.

A Fatal Quarrel.

CHAMBERS, Ga., July 14.—R. M. Peacock and Charles Thompson, both recently from North Carolina, have for some time been in enemy. Last evening some words passed between them when both drew double-action revolvers and began firing. Both were instantly killed and a stray bullet killed a negro who was standing near.

Lapweld Men on a Strike.

PITTSBURGH, July 14.—One thousand men employed in the lapweld department of the National Tube Works, at McKeesport, quit work yesterday afternoon and demand an increase of ten per cent. in wages. It is understood that several large orders are on the books, which, if delayed beyond a specified time, will entail a heavy loss on the company. The "bad" boys are still on a strike at the same mill.
